MAY-JUNE 2004

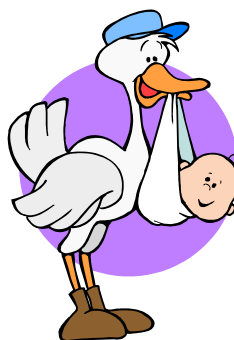

To the ladies of B Troop,

I would just like to extend my warmest thanks for having the opportunity to work with such a wonderful group of families. I have learned a lot over the past year and a half and I suppose I'll learn even more over the next year. It has been a pleasure running the FRG and I would like to send a special thanks to Staci for your support and friendship. I know you and Kristina will continue to do a wonderful job at keeping the families informed and involved. Everyone has done their part with this group whether it be working a fundraiser, making a dinner for a new mother, or simply adding your input at meetings. I appreciate everything you all have done and wish the best for all your families throughout the deployment. I hope to still hear from everyone from time to time, as I will be in continued contact also. Take care of each other!

Sincerely, Kristy Phillips

SERVICES

SATURDAY PLAYGROUP

Many of us have expressed the need to keep the kids busy and for us to have a break while the guys are gone. So how about a playgroup? It'll happen every other Saturday from 8am to 11am starting May 1st at the Abbott St Playground. On May 15th, we'll meet at the large Playground on Wheeler by the new gate. We can discuss future locations then.

ARMY ONE SOURCE

Whether you are preparing for a new baby, dealing with relationship issues, preparing for deployment and reunion, getting out of debt, or buying your first car, Army One Source can help. They will provide a customized response, whatever your needs are. The service is at no cost to you, and they respect your privacy. And because you never know when you'll need them, they're there 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. Phones are answered live by qualified staff.

From a technical sergeant stationed in South Korea:

DEAR ABBY: I miss my home and family. I realize more and more how important they are.

I owe a special person some overdue recognition. She has sacrificed and coped with much frustration without complaint or a second thought. She has moved thousands of miles from home to strange countries and managed to ensure that our house always felt like home. She has crammed four sometimes cranky people into a tiny hotel room for a month at a time until we could find suitable housing, improvising because our personal belongings were still in shipment. She has been a single parent while I attended schools to further my career, and she sacrificed countless high-paying jobs as we were again uprooted to satisfy the needs of the military.

During my year away, I've realized how important she has been to everything I have accomplished. While I have been furthering my career and serving my country, she has been raising our children, paying our bills, taking care of our home, managing our bank accounts and holding down a full-time job.

This person is my wife, Kim. She has been through it all -- the disappointment, the frustration, the aggravation and the happiness. Whenever I needed her, she was there. She's the best partner a man could ask for, and I am honored that she is mine.

I want to say to my wife, Kimberly Moonbeams: "I love you. You are the one who deserves the praise and the glory. I can't begin to measure how important you are. You are the glue that has held our family together."

Please, Abby, print this. Let all military spouses, especially my wife, know how important they are to the men and women who serve our great country. -- GRATEFUL MILITARY HUSBAND

DEAR GRATEFUL: I'm pleased to do it. Our soldiers may wear the medals, but the loving families who support them are our unsung heroes.
